IN THE JANUARY 29 issue The Press published on the front page a letter from Charles F. Runner of 14 S. Hunt Way in which he commended the Campbell police for the way they handled the traffic during the height of a vicious rain storm.

He thanked the police for their continuing excellent service to the community.

He described the way "two unsung heroes" who stood in the driving rain to direct traffic as "a fine example of how our sometimes maligned public servants risk their lives for our protection".

We thought this citation of the local gendarmes rated a front page notice, especially when it has been so popular among some groups to berate, insult and harass law enforcement officers.

As a result of Runner's letter, another local resident, in a note to us, has presented a different viewpoint which we are presenting here rather than in the 'letter-to-the-editor' column.

Coincidentally the writer is also a resident of Hunt Way.

Here is the letter:

"DEAR EDITOR:

"Re: Mr. Runner's letter of commendation for the Campbell police department's efforts during the recent storm—I think it might be an aid in understanding the problem to point out that directing Campbell is one thing and humiliation and physical abuse of black people in Oakland is quite another.

"I don't believe a cry has yet been risen in regard to police handling of traffic in a white suburb, HOWEVER, many sharp cries of injustice, racism and actual brutality have been risen in the inner cities across the nation.

"Never having experienced life and police as a black person in the inner city, I really doubt my right to close my ears to these cries and stubbornly cling to the belief that ALL police behave toward citizens in the way our Campbell police do in the prosperous WHITE suburb of Campbell.

"Since a responsible and civic-minded newspaper believes in the presentation of varied opinions, I am hopeful mine will appear in OUR newspaper.

"Sincerely,
Miss Penny Johnson
134 S. Hunt Way
Campbell."

THANK YOU, Miss Johnson.

We are pleased to present your opinion in YOUR newspaper.

The Campbell Press has at all times attempted to be a "responsible and civic-minded newspaper".

We may not always agree with the ideas or the philosophy that is expounded but we always have and will continue to invite our readers to express their opinions on any subject their hearts and minds desire.

THOSE OF US WHO TRY to make a living by putting one word after another on the printed page often are not condemned so much for the lines that appear in type but rather for the between-the-lines interpretations that the readers give the written gems.

And, of course, these interpretations vary with the individual.

For example, some members of the Planning Commission apparently resented our news stories on the unprecedented situation in this community of one advisory body, the Parks Commission, appealing the ruling of another body, the Planning Commission.

The Planning Commissioners felt, and with some justification we might add, that undue emphasis was put

Compromise changes park issue

Developer, city seek answer to problem

Whether there is any possible workable compromise to the parks-apartment controversy involving the future of city-owned Rincon Park may be revealed next Monday night, Feb. 24, at the City Council meeting.

Based on City Attorney Joe Bonacina's ruling on the legality of the issue, which is expected at Monday's meeting, the Council will either uphold or deny the unprecedented appeal of the Parks and Recreation Commission of the ruling of the Planning Commission.

The Planners on Jan. 6 approved a 240-unit apartment complex adjacent to the city owned park.

The Parks and Recreation Commission members claim that the proposed apartments infringe on this city's already badly depleted open space areas.

Since the appeal was first presented to the City Council on Jan. 27 and taken under advisement by that body, a number of attempts have been made to come up with compromises that would satisfy all parties concerned, i.e., the property owners, the developers of the proposed complex and the Parks and Recreation Commission.

At a meeting last Thursday attended by members of both commissions of the city, interested civic leaders and the owners and developers, a number of alternatives were suggested, including the purchase of the entire parcel by the city after a successful bond issue. Monday night Paul Frechette, designer of the proposed complex may present a modified plan that cuts down the size of the complex and increases the land available to the city from 1.6 acres to 3.6 cres.

This "compromise also allows an access to the six-acre undeveloped school district property that is adjacent to it.

OTHER ITEMS

The City Council is also expected next Monday to give first reading to a city ordinance that would prohibit the storage of boats and trailers in the front yards of homes.

The City Council also may award the contract to build Fire Station No. 2 on Sunnyoaks, provided that the bids that will be opened on Thursday are satisfactory. The station is estimated to cost about $300,000.

Fred Carnett, a local developer who is having a heck of a time getting approval of the Planning Commission for a 40-unit apartment because of a commission deadlock over the type of roof, will be making a second appearance before the Council.

But Carnett is not appearing because of his roof problem.

He wants to limit his tenants in the apartments to those 62-years of age and older and wants to be involved with the housing authority rent subsidy program over a 15-year period.

He claims to have the approval of HUD and the County Housing Authority for the senior citizen project and now is seeking the city's blessing.

Police car damaged by speeder

A Campbell police car Sunday suffered damage to the left front fender amounting to $388 after a car being chased down Highway 17 by the California Highway Patrol spun off the Hamilton offramp and struck the patrol car driven by Patrolman Ed Fallgatter. Fallgatter was not injured in the accident.

Several residences were hit during the week by burglars who entered while the residents were away. Ramon Wilcon, 890 Gale Ave. lost guns valued at $250 over the weekend by a thief who added insult to injury by turning the heat up to the maximum and leaving it on full blast.

Ronald Fair, 56 N. Third St. was visited by a burglar who literally kicked the door down to enter his home and make off with AM and FM radio equipment, sterec speakers, track tape player and other related equipment valued at $713. The burglar apparently used a large heavy foot to kick in the locked door which had been secured with a chain. Two large muddy footprints were also found at the scene.

Numerous cars were broken into and stereo tapes and tape decks were removed and one report of juveniles involved with drug usage was filed with the police.

RAIN DROPS

A total of 17.46 inches of rain has been recorded in Campbell so far on the 1968-69 precipitation chart.

This compared to 14.99 inches as normal and 11.02 inches at the same time last year. Total rainfall for the entire last year was only 14.51 inches.

Hospital gets new boss

ALL IN THERE---E. E. Admire (right) departing administrator of Campbell Community Hospital, goes over the books with his successor, Samuel H. Franks, who comes here from his post as director of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Admire, who served for more than five years as administrator of the local hospital, was recently honored by the trustees of the hospital at a dinner meeting at which he was presented with an illuminated scroll.

Franks, the new administrator, who has served as administrator of both private and government hospitals, was born in England. He served in the U. S. Army 1942-46 and from 1949-54 served in VA hospitals in the bay area.

Pony leaguers to use Rincon Park

Campbell-Moreland Pony League will use the modern ball field, now almost completed at the city-owned Rincon Park, for league play this season and possibly for tournament play-offs after the season is ended.

Sign-ups for the league teams begin this Saturday and Sunday at Rincon Park and also at the Castro School field.

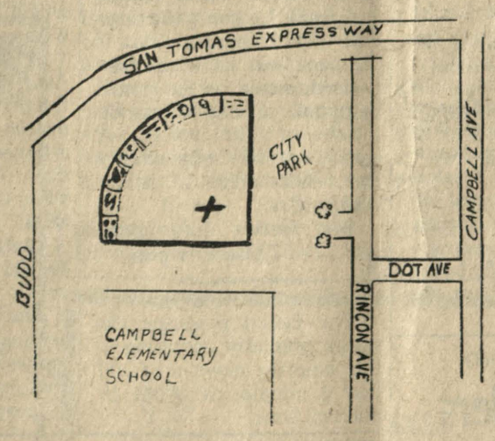
The Pony League field at Castro School on Campbell Ave. will also be used for league play this year.

League officials report that sign-ups for the league will continue each Saturday and Sunday from Feb. 22 through March 29. The sign-ups are scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Sundays.

Tryouts for the league teams will begin on Saturday, April 12, at both fields and league play will get underway on May 10 and will end on July 7.

The Campbell-Moreland Pony League encompasses the area included in the Campbell Little League, Moreland Little League and Quito Little League.

For more information on the Campbell-Moreland Pony League, Collin McKinney (378-2033) or Les Baldinger (379-4439) can be contacted.



CofC luncheon this Thursday will features "Wrinkled Prune Annex"

Campbell Chamber of Commerce will hold its first luncheon meeting of the new year this Thursday, Feb. 20, at The Sveden House, 1730 W. Campbell Ave. It will mark the first luncheon meeting to be presided over by Neal Royer, the new president.

One of the features of the meeting will be a short presentation by Stanley Becker, who recently announced that he had purchased the massive three-story Sunsweet warehouse in downtown Campbell, which has been renamed "The Wrinkled Prune Annex".

Becker envisions transforming the interior of the warehouse into settings for plush restaurants, cabarets and art galleries.

CofC members have been invited to tour the facilities of the Wrinkled Prune Annex after the luncheon meeting.

Another feature of the meeting on Thursday will be an exhibit of products of various member firms on a special display exchange table.

Firms have been invited to display their specialties as a sort of "blow-your-own-horn" bit.

Royer announced this week that Tom Snowden, manager that Tom Snowden, vice-president and manager of Snowden-Pencer Corp. who has been serving as director-at-large had been named to fill the unexpired two-year term of Arland Hatfield, former manager of the First National Bank in Campbell, who was recently advanced to the head office of the bank.

Royer said that Mike Ivecevich, assistant manager of the Wells Fargo Bank in Campbell, has been named to the position of director-at-large replacing Snowden.

The CofC president also announced the following committee chairmen for 1969: Lowell Grattan, industrial; Bill Oltmann, commercial; Norman Paul, retail-Christmas; Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, Congress for Community Progress; Phil Baker, ambassadors; Joe Clark, congressional action; Jerry Arca, youth employment; Bob Bullard, education; Gene Borden, beautification; Don Kennedy, budget and finance; Ken Mantle, city and county affairs; Jim O'Brien, streets and highways.

Orchard City Grange honors early settlers this Saturday

On Saturday, Feb. 22, the Early Settlers of Campbell will enjoy their annual reunion sponsored by the Orchard City Grange No. 333.

This will mark the ninth annual time that the Grange has held the Old Timers' get-together, which is planned for residents who have called Campbell their hometown for 40 years or more.

Invitations have been sent out to all the early settlers and an "Old Timers" reception will be held from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon followed by a program at 1:30 p.m.

The reunion luncheon is a throwback to a number of years ago when the early settlers of Campbell traditionally held a get-together and reminicing day. Feb. 22 was the day picked by the early settlers as the last holiday before the heavy spring and summer orchard work began.

Invitations have been sent out by the grange to all of the early settlers, for the Washington's Birthday get-together. Mrs. Roy Bartholomew is chairman for the luncheon and reservations may be made by calling her at 356-8887 or Marian Landers, 377-5168, or Helen Bohn at 252-2625.

Descendants of the original Campbell family have been contacted and many will be present this year, as in the past, to meet with long time friends, and revive memories of Campbell.

Entertainment for the afternoon will be provided by the Four Peppertones, a female barbershop quartet from

City Planners deadlock again on shake roofs

Another 700-seat theater for Campbell won the unanimous approval of the Planning Commission on Monday night. But the planners still were unable to resolve the shake roof issue that had been deferred from a previous meeting because of a 3-3 deadlock.

Another 3-3 vote again caused continuation of the matter of whether the 40-unit apartment complex on San Tomas Aquino Road near Latimer should have shake roofs.

At the first 3-3 deadlock, Chairman Kel Young of the seven-member commission was absent. On Monday night Vice-Chairman Ed Pack was the absentee.

On Monday night the motion, made by Dale Scott to require shake roofs instead of composition for the apartments planned by Ralph E. Carnett, won the support of Frank Klein and Merrill Grim, the same line-up as in the previous session.

Voting against the shake requirement were Young, Thayer Lyons and Jack Healey. Pack, who had voted against the shakes at the first meeting had indicated that he might be able to make the meeting by 10 p.m.

But he didn't make it. Car-

Editorial

Moving forward

The Campbell Press next week (Feb. 26) publishes its fourth annual progress edition.

This year it is of special significance because it marks the beginning of the 75th year of continuous publication of this newspaper.

So, in addition, to projecting into the future in keeping with the 1969 theme for this community of "MOVING FORWARD", our annual herculean effort in the publishing field will delve considerably into the past.

This community has an enviable heritage, for it has been in existence for a long, long time, although the links with the past have been somewhat dimmed by the rush to move forward.

Very few bits of evidence remain today of the little town that was established before the turn of the century.

In fact the community was in existence a long time before the first newspaper made its appearance, the "Campbell Weekly Visitor", the predecessor to The Campbell Press of today.

As this paper starts its 75th year of service to the community, we are well aware that the "good old days" will never return.

No longer is this community classified as a rural village surrounded by orchards devoted to the agricultural industry.

In fact the much-abbreviated operation of the Sunsweet plant in Campbell today is about the only remaining evidence that Campbell in years gone by was solely dependent on the fruit industry for its existence. That was, of course, the basic reason that the town was established.

Some of the housing that exists today, incidentally, in this community, much the worse for wear and tear, was originally built to house the transient workers who flocked here during the fruit season.

As most of us know who have been here for a decade or more, Campbell in years gone by was often designated in a derogatory manner as that "dirty little cannery town".

It has taken a tremendous community effort, spearheaded by a strong citizens movement which was instrumental in getting a $2,600,000 bond issue passed in 1967, to make outsiders realize that there is a NEW Campbell.

Yet the work of the interested citizens to improve the image of their community has virtually only begun.

We foresee even greater changes in the community in the future as it MOVES FORWARD.

But again let us emphasize that no matter how far we move ahead into a new expansion and development, we should point with pride to the past, even if it means recognizing the unsavory appellation of the "cannery town" of the past.

And, let us make one point clear, there is absolutely nothing wrong, as we see it, in referring to the "cannery town" background.

And, as we said before, whether the cannery town was "dirty" or "clean" is incidental and depended to a great extent from where one viewed it.

We don't mind at all reviewing the past as we peek into the future.

As a matter of fact, what makes it quite exciting is the startling contrast that will be so evident.

As we have noted before, the development at Bascom and Campbell avenues by Fred Sahadi and the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., in our opinion, will have more of an impact on the community as a whole than any other event in this community's history.

We are pleased that the name of the unique center is "The Prune Yard", for that gives impetus to what we have tried to say here...because that name will always be a link with the past.

And, of course, the 18-story office tower that is planned as part of the development, "The Towers", in a dramatic manner will more than anything else cast a shadow of what the future will be.

We concede, of course, in a nostalgic way, that it is sad that this area has changed so radically from the rural atmosphere of the past to the highly urbanized, dog-eat-dog, rush, rush action of the present...and the future.

But, as we MOVE FORWARD into the greatest period of development in this community's history, The Campbell Press is emphasizing in its diamond jubilee progress edition that there has been a past of which the community can be proud.

This is not living in the past by any manner of means.

None of us want that.

But it is remembering the past...and those "good old days".

As we MOVE forward...

on their action.

The accounts of the unusual situation, they seem to think, put the planners in an unfavorable light, making them out as the bad guys wearing the black hats in this friendly intramural donnybrook.

They maintain, and we thoroughly agree with them, that the issue before them (approval of a site plan for an apartment complex adjacent to the city-owned park) was not simply a parks vs. apartments concept.

THE PLANNING COMmissioners are well aware of the need for open space being reserved for recreational use for the future. They are NOT against parks.

BUT, they point out, the area being considered IS and WAS zoned for multiple housing and they had to act on the application before them which, incidentally, met all zoning conditions.

They emphasize that the action of the Parks and Recreation Commission was a belated one.

The P&R people should have gone to bat months before and fought for the rezoning of the property in question, the planners submit.

They ask, in effect, where were the park advocates when the lights went out?

TO CLARIFY THE SITuation let us emphasize once and for all that NO ONE (and that includes your editor) for one instant criticizes the loyalty, sincerity and civic-mindedness of the members of the Planning Commission.

Their goal is the same as we all have...to work toward a better community for all concerned.

Some of our friends on the Planning Commission, (Kel, Thayer and Frank, to be exact), indicated to us that they thought we had overplayed this intramural conflict between the two commissions which could have a detrimental effect on the entire community.

We think they are being somewhat over-sensitive in this matter.

Their ideas of how to report civic problems may differ with ours.

BUT we think they also will concede that their editor will never, intentionally or even unintentionally, undermine the welfare of this community by stirring up intracity feuds.

That's one thing, we sincerely hope, we all agree on.

Next question.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERrors pop up in the darndest places.

In last week's paper, for example, in the story on the groundbreaking of the new $289,520 parish center for St. Thomas of Canterbury on McCoy Ave., the story mentioned "...and a short history of the 18-year old parish"

St. Thomas of Canterbury is a NEW parish which was formed to a great extent (about 900 families) from St. Lucy's in Campbell

Obviously the parish has not been in existence for 18 years!

What was meant, of course, was 18 months.

Granted that Father Paul Perlite and his parishioners have made rapid strides in the past 18 months, they have not quite reached the stage where they will be 198 months or 16½-years hence.

THE CITY COUNCIL IS now studying a new ordinance that would prohibit the storage of boats, campers and trailers in front yards.

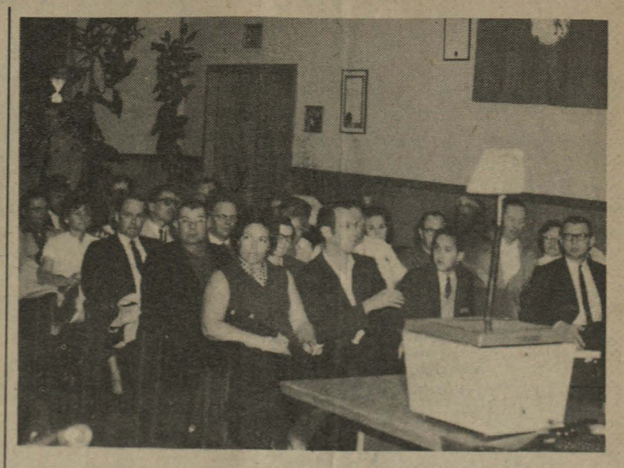
Part of the research done by Art Kee, planning director, on the subject dealt with how neighboring cities handled the problem.

Of particular interest to us was the point that, although Santa Clara does not prohibit the storage of boats, trailers and campers, there is a limitation of 72 hours for the storage of AIRCRAFT in the front yards in the Mission City.

We have always wondered why we hadn't seen any airplanes parked in the front yards of residences in Santa Clara.

Now we know.

Campbell Police seminar attracts wide interest



ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Several years ago I asked a friend who lives in a southern border state to predict the outcome of a governor's race. His answer was, "It depends upon who gets the floaters".

When I pressed my friend for an explanation he quite candidly stated that it was common practice for a large bloc of voters in each community to follow the lead of one of their group who acted as chief negotiator. On election day, the negotiator would drive the best possible bargain and toward the end of the day a price for votes would be established and accepted by the leader of the "floaters". It might be a quart of whiskey or $2 or $3 but there was no doubt that the entire group would "stay bought" and all vote the same way.

Such corrupt election practices aren't confined to the South. Election day shenanigans in Chicago's Cook County, "shadow voting" in Philadelphia and Boston, and questionable vote counts in dozens of cities are still taken for granted by many.

Such practices prompted another friend of mine, an eminent political scientist, to remark that "he'd rather trust the electoral college than the local election officials of some states". He then went on to show how it would be possible for large blocs of votes to be withheld and brought forth at the appropriate time to decisively influence a presidential election which was determined by strictly a popular vote.

Now that a change in the electoral college is imminent most Congressmen, including myself, are taking another hard look at the advisability of electing a President by popular vote. I have come to the conclusion that I cannot support the idea unless we have uniform election procedures in every village and hamlet across the nation. This is impractical, if not impossible.

My own thinking now leans toward a modification of the electoral college. Why not have our 435 representatives and our 100 senators meet in joint session and formally "declare" the election of a president. Each representative would be legally bound to vote for the candidate who received a plurality in his district and each senator would be bound to vote for the candidate who received a plurality in the state. This would eliminate the antiquated electoral college while preserving the republic charter of our government which gives small states fair consideration. It would prevent the possibility of a few large states completely controlling an election.

It would be a step in the direction of a popular election by splitting up each state's electoral votes and at the same time it would elevate the importance of congressional races because each congressional election would have considerable significance in the final selection of a president.

Lastly, such a system would obviate the possibility of an undecided election and the possibility which loomed so imminently last fall of the presidency being filled as a result of political compromise, "wheeling", and "dealing". Right now it is impossible to predict what changes will be made, but the system which appears to have the best chance is something like that which I have outlined.

Municipal band for Campbell?

Several local men have indicated an interest in forming a municipal band in Campbell to play at civic functions. Any man who can play a brass or reed instrument or drums, is invited to attend an organizational meeting on Sunday, March 2, at 4 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hebard, 205 Calado Ave., Campbell.

Suggested plans call for the band to play at service club picnics, Chamber of Commerce events, Little League and Pony League gatherings. One of the first occasions, if the band was sufficiently rehearsed, would be the annual Campbell Spring Clean-Up luncheon for volunteer workers at the Campbell City Park. This event is usually held in May.

The shaky issue again comes to bat two weeks from now. All concerned are hoping that an uneven number of commissioners will be present.

Plans for the new 700-seat theater were submitted by John A. Pursley, developer of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center on the former Orsi ranch on Winchester Blvd. The plans also consist of 7440 square feet commercial complex.

The Plaza Theater is now located in the center and the proposed theater is larger than the one now in operation.

Plans were also approved for two industrial buildings on McGlincey Lane. Eldred J. Kunkel and Warren F. Crinklaw were the applicants.

Approval was also given the plans for locker rooms, gym and swimming pool for a private sport and swim center to be located at 467 Rincon Ave. adjacent to the city-owned park.

John Lubetich also got the approval of the commissioners for a six-unit apartment complex at 1420 W. Latimer.

The commissioners deferred any action on the plans for a real estate office submitted by Chester W. Allen for 1374 E. Hamilton until the City Council had acted on the zone change (from R-2-S to P-0.

Chairman Don Hebard of the Parks and Recreation Commission presented the recommendation of the commission relative to specifying park lands in the general plan.

In another action the commissioners approved an amendment to the proposed outdoor activity ordinance

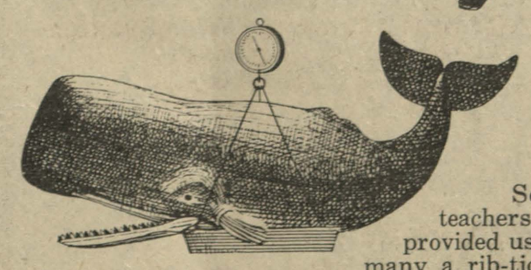
You know, the telephone installer is a good example of the kind of helpful people we've got working for us. He's more than a specialist at installing telephones, he's also a specialist at helping people. The job he does is an individual one, tailored to your particular needs. He puts his technical know-how to work so you get the kind of telephone service you want, and he's supplied with a real "tool chest on wheels" to help him do it. He's got over 150 supply items in his truck that help him tackle your job—which is never quite like anyone else's.



School teachers have provided us with many a rib-tickling observation by the younger generation. One fifth grade teacher received the following ponderously thought-out comparison in a composition about the telephone: "There are something like 100 million telephones in America today. One hundred million is bigger than the largest known whale."

Local gal turns hobby into job

DOROTHY HARRINGTON –at work

By Sally Howe

Dorothy Harrington could just be an average housewife–if you're giving out labels.

The fact that she isn't is a credit to Dorothy and to modern education.

Dorothy sews.

Dorothy sews well.

Dorothy sews so well that she is a top-notch teacher for the Metropolitan Adult Education Program and spends one morning, one afternoon and one evening each week passing her knowledge onto other gals who don't have the complete know-how to do the things they'd like.

For instance, Dorothy, a former Campbell High School teacher, holds forth on Thursday evenings at Markham Junior High. Here she demonstrates her own special method of teaching women to fit the clothes they have made—the bane of the seamstress.

"What good is it to make yourself something, if, after completion, it looks just like that–you made it. I want to teach women to make garments that no one would guess they'd made!"

Dorothy and her husband, Carl, who with their daughters Trudy, 8, and Lisa, 11, live at 72 Shelley Ave., have a family joke about their "his" and "hers" sewing machines (Carl is an upholsterer), and are mildly competitive–in that they both teach for the adult education program.

Dorothy has done teaching other than for the school districts–a few years ago she demonstrated still another talent–and taught dancing to pre-schoolers enrolled in the Congregational Church of Campbell cooperative nursery school.

She attended Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles (after graduating from college in the east), has worked in a custom French dress shop, in an alteration room and has had other practical experience which has made it possible for her to develop a special audio visual teaching technique which she passes on to her classes.

Persons interested in enrolling in any of the classes should call 379-8550.

During the five weeks firemen, nurses and Red Cross workers cooperate to demonstrate resuscitation, kitchen safety, baby bathing, activities for toddlers and first aid. This year's tema will compare favorably with last year, according to golf mentor, Dick Schwendinger. Three lettermen will be back.

PITCHING IS??

"If we can get good strong pitching, we will have a good ballclub", Wayne Clay, West Valley College head baseball coach, said this week in commenting on the chances of the 1969 Viking baseball squad. "We have good defense, good hitting and speed. It all boils down to how good the hurlers will be."

As I View It

BY JOHN W. GILBAUGH

Campus peace at any price will be no peace at all. Trustee concessions made now to striking professors and disruptive students will serve to compound the problems and make more difficult the obvious and only action which eventually must be taken. That is dismissal of striking professors and expulsion of students who have disrupted the instructional probrams. And, furthermore, if the Regents of the University system and the Board of State College Trustees do not take appropriate steps to prevent the rehiring of fired professors and the re-enrollment of expelled students for at least one full academic year in either system, the state legislature should do so.

One of the impending threats to the system of control of higher education by the people, through their elected representatives, is that the Trustees and Regents are likely to be outmaneuvered by the dissident, subversive and anarchist professors who are on the vanguard of the campus revolution. There is a good chance that the Trustees may win the current battle with the striking faculty, but lose it on another front.

The faculty revolutionaries are already regrouping their forces in preparation for another onslaught in a new sector. This time, the strategy will be focused on getting the State College Trustees to agree to the naming of the Statewide Academic Senate as the Official Bargaining Agent for the faculties on salaries, benefits and working conditions.

The Senate, which is the spurious offspring of dissident faculties and weak college officials, is pressuring the Trustees for permission to conduct a statewide referendum among the system's 10,000 faculty members. If the Trustees yield on this issue, they will have, in effect, set up a rival control group that will exert more influence in management of the State College System, than the Trustees themselves.

After the Statewide Academic Senate is named as Official Bargaining Agent, there has been discussion of the possibility of contracting with some existing organization such as the AFT of the AFL-CIO to do the Senate's bargaining. If this occurs, the faculty strikers, though they may lose the current battle, will win the war.

In the meantime, another faculty group, the California College and University Faculty Association, as a rival of the striking American Federation of Teachers is demanding a meeting with the State College Trustees in an effort to assert their own influence. The Trustees, much to the chagrin of the silent, submissive, faculty majority, have permitted a sub-committee of its members to meet with a committee of faculty strikers. It is not surprising that other faculty organizations would demand equal consideration.

Because of the eight-year-old Trustee policy of surrender, compromise, and faculty appeasement, the revolutionist professors have concluded that Trustee authority is up for grabs. And, with college administrators struggling to keep atop the towering waves of faculty caprice, the revolutionists may be correct.

The baseball and track teams have been busy practicing for their first game and meet. The first baseball game is scheduled for a tournament on March 7.

The Varsity Basketball team beat the Prospect Panthers 70-68. The game was a close and exciting one. At one time during the game, Prospect led 19-1, but due to the outstanding coaching of the team, they pulled out of the loss to a victory in the last 10 seconds.

Thanks to the great rebounding and skillful playing of Steve Lobravich, the Frosh Soph team also won their game against Prospect. Steve played a fantastic game both on offensive and defensive. His quick reflexes started the game with a lead and kept the lead during the entire game.

The spirit at the game was at its best. Both sides had an exceptionally good turnout.

Varsity player of the week is Senior Jeff Taku.

Because Friday is a school holiday, the basketball game is scheduled for Thursday, 7:00 at Campbell against Branham. The last game of the season is against Westmont at Westmont at 3:30 next Tuesday.

Science Fair to draw young scientists from valley schools

Is there a budding young scientist in your family who may someday unlock one of life's secrets for his or her fellowm fellow man?

Unlike early day scientific experimenters who worked alone at home or in an old shed amid the jeers of their fellow men, today's Ben Franklins and Tom Edisons have a golden opportunity for instant recognition and reward, through the Ninth Annual Santa Clara Valley Science Fair, to be held at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds March 28 to 31.

The Science Fair competition is produced each year by a group of concerned volunteer industry and education leaders, to stimulate scientific interest in today's students.

"Even the average students who are not potential geniuses come out ahead in this competition", says Santa Clara Valley Science Fair director Oreon Keeslar, who is assistant director of curriculum of Santa Clara County Schools.

"A most important benefit for the student, in addition to prizes and recognition and meeting community leaders who may be a future job source, is the development and practice of creative thinking required to complete a project. This experience can benefit our students the rest of their lives.

"We give our time to the Science Fair because we do not want our country to fall behind other world powers in the sciences. Our past scientific advances have made us the number one nation in the world, but we are in danger of losing that position. Although students must do their own work, their parents and teachers must provide the motivation and encouragement for them to make the extra effort to participate."

More than 200 Santa Clara Valley students won prizes and awards last year, which include all-expense-paid trips to the International Science Fair for two top winners and their teachers, to be held in Fort Worth in 1969, an extensive cruise at sea on a Navy ship, microscopes, slide rules, valuable scientific books and many others.

Project exhibits, scientific art and photography and technical papers will be judged under 13 categories:

Exhibits – Biological Science (Botany, Medicine/Health and Zoology); Physical Science; Chemistry/Biochemistry, Mathematics, Electronics/Computers, Physics, Earth Science;

Scientific Art – Three-dimensional models; Flat illustrations and drawings; photographs for scientific purposes;

Scientific - Technical Papers – Biological Science topics, Physical science topics.

Deadlines for entries are March 1 for submission of technical papers; and March 8 for mailing registration forms for projects and scientific art entries. Registration forms may be obtained from science teachers and the competition is open to sixth through 12th grade students in all public, private and parochial schools in Santa Clara Valley.

Last year's exhibits were viewed by more than 6,000 visitors.

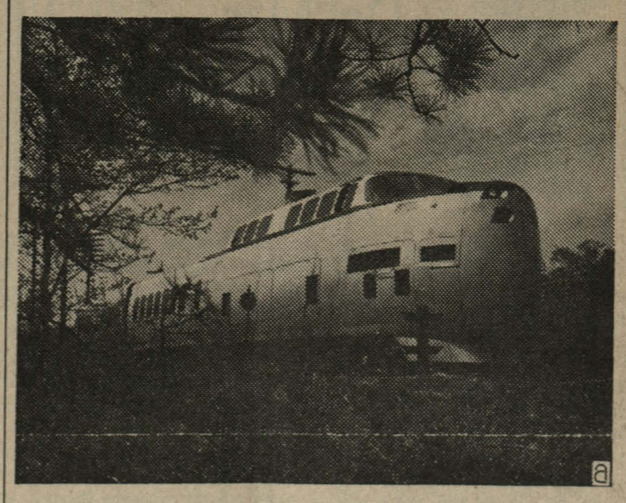
ON THE RIGHT TRACK



TURBOTRAIN, new high-speed passenger train, is about a third of the weight of a diesel of the same capacity. Weight savings were made by using lightweight power system and aluminum construction. Unnecessary weight was eliminated.

Transportation Industry Licks 'Calorie' Problem

NEW YORK (a)—If medical science matches the transportation industry's sure-fire formula for losing weight, calorie counting would be a much less active pastime.

One transportation industry answer to this age-old problem is aluminum.

Take the TurboTrain, for example, the swift, new lightweight passenger train. It is operating between Boston and New York as part of a high-speed ground transportation project under contract to the U. S. Department of Transportation.

The basic design philosophy of the TurboTrain is the elimination of unnecessary weight. This is achieved by using a lightweight power system and aluminum construction.

Greater Strength

While major weight savings are made through design and elimination of various components, the design actually provides greater structural strength than conventional passenger cars. A seven-car TurboTrain weighs 300,000 pounds, about one-third the weight of a diesel-powered train of the same capacity.

Another example of how the transportation industry solved a weight problem is the new Queen Elizabeth II, now nearing completion in Scotland.

Reduced overall weight in shipbuilding automatically effects savings in installed power. In large passenger liners, such as the new Queen, weight saving makes possible extra decking accommodations.

Savings In Fuel

Thus, with the new liner it has been possible to incorporate an extra deck. This allows the new Queen to carry as many passengers as the old Queen at the same cruising speed but with half the fuel consumption.

The Ford Motor Company solved a weight problem in developing the Mark IV sports-prototype. The solution: aluminum honeycomb core sandwich panel construction, the core being the lightest, strongest structural technique known.

In addition to the honeycomb structure, the Mark IV has many other components made of aluminum. They range from radiator and intake manifold to mirrors, dashboard, oil tank, cylinder heads, steering wheel and roof panel assembly.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15 BY NAN WARREN CADETS 567

Those active Cadettes are on the move!

Cadettes of Troop 567 are planning a car wash, Feb. 22, at Chappell's Richfield Station, 1390 S. Winchester Blvd. The location is easy to find for all Campbell residents – just across from McDonald's. Only $1, regardless of the size of the vehicle, for an expert inside and out clean-up job.

The Scouts have planned a few "fringe benefits" too – coffee and cookies while you wait! You couldn't ask for a better deal!

The Troop recently had a Scout-get-together with the Cadettes of Troop 878 and 23 Boy Scouts of Troop 330. Steve Candelaria, Ernie Pyre and Barney Avlakeotes entertained on guitars and drum. All the Scouts had a great time eating, dancing and just having fun.

CADETTES 55

Cadette Troop 55 spent Tuesday night and Lincoln's Birthday in the Palo Alto Scout House. This was mainly a time of getting acquainted in fun, frolic and food, although the girls did have certain jobs to perform.

The girls planned a "parent tea" to celebrate Thinking Day Feb. 22. Thinking Day is a time set aside for Girl Scouts all over the world to remember one another. Inviting their parents to this event will allow their folks to see the broad scope of Scouting in todays world.

Junior Scouts, Troop 953 Forest Hill School, spent Lincoln's birthday at Vasona Park working on badges. The wonders of our great outdoors lent all sorts of interesting things for the Observer, Rambler and Backyard Fun badges.

Girls attending this outing with their leaders, Mrs. Elden Lange and Mrs. Hudson Edwards, were: Jenny and Karen Akers, Peggy Clay, Charlotte Copeland, Jan Edwards, Sharon Hanstein, Karen Honeycutt, Marie Koch, Lori Ann Koostra, Jan Lange, Shirley Lantz, Cheryl Mortimer, Mindy Stein, Sue Tygert, Cindy Wagle and Jenifer Wohlgemuth.

NEIGHBORHOOD 17 BY SHIRLEY MASON BROWNIES 840

Brownie Troop 840 of Rosemary School went went through the traditional "Twist Me and Turn Me" ceremony for their investiture on Jan. 16 at the First United Methodist Church in Campbell.

Parents of the scouts were present to see their girls take their first step in Girl Scouting.

Girls who were invested were Carol Bouchard, Barbara Jean Bourgeau, Jo Anne Marie Caruso, Cheryl Lee Casteel, Lori Churchill, Penny Fliflet, Lisa Ann Foster, Sandra Fraasch, Laurel Lee Garbarino.

Mitzi Hillig, Ingrid Joyce, Debra Maddox, Cindy Owens, Ann Pearce, Lone Rasmussen, Julie Reed, Kimberly Schneider, Christine Stephenson and Karen Wolf.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. G. W. Bourgeau and Mrs. Doug Maddox.

Nineteen Girl Scouts of Junior Troop 166 of Dover School spent a recent rainy weekend at the Carmen Jones Scout House in Sunnyvale.

While at the Scout House the girls had "Fun", got to know each other better, learned how to live and work together (being confined by the rain, the girls had a real experience in group living) and fulfilled requirements for the Backyard Fun badge.

On the overnight all meals and kapers were carried out by the patrol system. The evening's entertainment was made up of many and varied impromptu skits.

The troop also recently spent a day at Vasona, where they cooked on the vagabond stoves they had made at a troop meeting for the same badge.

Girls attending the overnight were Nina Benevento, Cheryl Bucceglia, Cathy Campbell, Sandra Campbell, Shelley Coleman, Kathy Crapo, Mary Lee Danna, Janis D'Attilo, Terri D'Attilo.

Lisa Edman, Ann Fiock, Lorna Higgins, Pam Hover, Tanya Knapstad, Susan Norton, Virginia Puentes, Lisa Sanzone, Kathy Schmidt and Charlene Smeed.

Other girls in the troop are Jeri Balsley, Susan Hale, Mary Petersen and Shanna White.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. R. J. Crapo and Mrs. Leonard Fiock.

Don't fight it.

Let's face it, wet wash is a real monster. Why fight it? Without a dryer you're the victim.

It means that every year you lug 2,000 pounds 40 miles in round trips from house to clothesline. You pinch and unpinch about 10,000 clothespins. And you spend needless hours ironing the press back into permanent press clothes. So why fight it? See your appliance dealer about a new clothes dryer. PG and E

The annual Blue and Gold dinner held by the Cub Scout troop No. 309 was held recently with the east side YMCA Indian Guide dancers as guests. Also guests of the troop were the Search and Rescue Group.

Others present for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Don McCullough, institutional representative, Mr. Alumfree, area leader and the Rev. Each den made their own beautiful table decorations. Special thanks was extended by the troop to Mrs. Gilbert and Landra Gray.

A special plea is being extended by the pack for a new cub master as Cub Pack Master Carlson is retiring this spring. If a new master is not found, Pack 309, the oldest pack in California, will terminate.

The next pack meeting will be held Feb. 20 in Bennett Hall at the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave. at 7:30 p.m.

During the dinner meeting Paul Hoff and Keith Fredrickson were presented with plaques carrying all the awards they had earned. The two boys are going up into Scouts.
